DR. NEWMAN'S TROUBLES.

His Congregation Anxiously Asking Whether He Will Return from California.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Special.—The Sun says: The fall outlook for the Congregational Church in Avenue church is not encouraging. The editor will be opened Sunday, but Pastor Newman will not be there to preside. He is at present in California, where he went two months ago. His friends say he also need a outing; others in the church are not pleased about his retreat.

Dawson Ramsey said: "He thinks he has taken the method of getting out of the church difficulty. Of course if he does not there is an end of the matter. A large percentage of the congregation are his friends. He knew yesterday that the editorial in the News was not based on reports, unless Shearman was going to publish private letters. Shearman, who, I understand, is a friend of Newman's, said to me that he was not responsible for the article. I was told that Dr. Newman had written a letter to Shearman, but I have not seen it. I have heard

HEBREWS IN BUSINESS.

Something About the Men Who Do a Large Portion of New York's Trade.

[illegible]

Considering the small number of Jews in New York—only 40,000—comparison with the whole population—they are successful in the business world. This is simply phenomenal. There is no such record in any other city. There is no such record in fact in the history of the world. Nearly all the large dry goods firms in New York are owned and managed by Hebrews. Many of the heads of these firms started in life as poor boys, and worked their way up to wealth and position. Take, for instance, the firm of Arnold, Constable & Co. Mr. Arnold was a poor boy, and began life as a clerk in a small dry goods store. He married a Jewess, and her capital started the firm. Mr. Constable was also a poor boy, and began life as a clerk in a dry goods store. He married a Jewess, and her capital helped to start the firm. In fact, this firm is composed entirely of men who started in life as poor boys, and worked their way up to wealth and position. Mr. Arnold is now worth nearly $2,000,000, and Mr. Constable is worth nearly as much. Both men married Jewesses, and both owe their success in business largely to the capital which their wives brought them. Mr. Arnold's wife is a sister of Mr. Joseph Seligman, the banker, and Mr. Constable's wife is a sister of Mr. Jesse Seligman, the banker

SPRING-HEELED JACK.

Stories of a Ghastly Practical Joker

[From the London Telegraph.]

It is now nearly half a century since the inhabitants of London and its suburbs were kept in a constant state of terror by a man, who, under various disguises would suddenly appear before the unsuspecting pedestrian, and by so doing nearly frightened the traveler out of his or her senses, would as suddenly disappear with terrible bounds, leaving the impression upon his affrighted victim that his satanic majesty had condescended to pay him a visit in person. Evening was the time generally chosen by this eccentric character for his exploits and, doubtless, there are many living who have not yet lost the pang of fear which shot through their hearts when, hearing from some dark corner or other the words "Spring-heeled Jack" uttered in a sepulchral tone, they were transfixed to the spot with terror.

Blaine's Chances in Louisiana.

Special to New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24. - The various republican organizations of the state have combined, electoral ticket as follows: At large—Gen. Walton of Concordia, and Taylor Beattie of Caddo. First district—Aristede Mary of Orleans. Second—John Mahoney, St. of Orleans. Third—H. C. Minor of Terrebonne. Fourth—W. J. Looney of Caddo. Fifth—D. C. Mott of Ouachita. Sixth—Cadwell C. Swazie of Landry. The list embraces the most influential men of the state, all of whom except Beattie and Mr. Mary were democrats as late as 1880, in point of character, wealth and respectability, the strongest political ticket ever nominated here since the war. There is a similar strong movement for Blaine throughout the state. There have been seventy-odd Blaine clubs formed in this campaign, while not half a dozen Cleveland clubs can be found. The Irish are to be efficiently all for Blaine. The agreement of Registrar Brewster to comply with the law of elections indicates that the power of the machinery will be relaxed and the chances of the recent state election not right in play. This being the case, only close attention to details on the part of the republicans will give the state to Blaine. The action of Kellogg in the third district has no parallel since. It was organized by some of the political recipients of Kellogg's misplaced patronage. They were bolters from the start.
